The LWBWGA celebrated the “vernal equinox” by having their Spring Fling golf tournament.

The name of the tournament is Blindwoman’s Bluff and it is a fun tournamement with an interesting golf format. First, each player’s name is placed in a hat and the teams are put together at random.

Second, some of the rules for the game are: On all even holes each team takes the best drive and all play their own ball from this position until the ball is holed out. Odd holes are played the regular way except for three holes, on one Par 5 hole each player can take one muligan (extra shot), on another hole, a player must approach the green only from a sandtrap, and one hole must be puttied blindfolded! This makes a tough hole for a skilled or not so skilled player to putt. There is only one score for the team and the winning team of Gail Carscadden, Corinne Watson, Deb Harris and Caral Masback came in with a 79. Second place went to Odette Dubeau, Grace Simone, Gale Flament and Jane McGrory shooting 81. Congratulations to all the winners!

LWCHS at State Solo & Ensemble

By Alexia G. Jimenez

Most high school students spend their spring break soaking up the sun at the beach, catching up on sleep, or spending time with friends. For six Lake Worth High School band students, spring break was filled with extra rehearsals leading up to the Florida Bandmasters Association State Solo & Ensemble Competition.

In order to qualify for the state level competition, students had to perform a grade five or higher (collegiate level) solo for a judge at the district level and receive a rating of superior. LWHS earned 32 superior medals at the district level, but just six students qualified for state.

The state-level musicians performed at Dreyfoos School of the Arts on Thursday, Mar. 21 alongside their accompanist, LWHS alumni, Steven Fabian. The ratings earned are as follows:

Anthony Tovar, Clarinet - Excellent
Brenda Almira, Flute - Superior
Guy Thompson, Tuba

- Superior Cristian Barrios, Trumpet - Superior Robert Smith, Bari Sax - Superior Daniel Young, Percussion - Superior with Distinction

Entries are evaluated on a scale of “Poor-Fair-Good-Excellent-Superior.” Superior with Distinction means that the student performed a collegiate level solo entirely from memory. Daniel Young is the first student in at least 20 years to earn this rating at LWHS!

Congratulations to these talented young musicians. Lake Worth High School, the Trojan Sound Band, and the Lake Worth Beach Community are so proud of all that you have accomplished.

Welcome Home Eva Whitehouse

By Helen Vogt Greene

Sergeants Ronnie and Dana Gainey, Lake Worth Salvation Army Church Administrators, announced that well-loved and dedicated Eva Whitehouse would be returning to the Lake Worth Salvation Army at 4015 Kirk Road.

The announcement was made to the members of the congregation and the Advisory Board. Voices and smiles of approval were shared by all.

Eva Whitehouse has an amazing history with the Salvation Army, she was raised in a Salvation home. But, she feels what is done today is the most important. Eva Whitehouse’s new title is Program Coordinator. Her years with the Salvation Army know that means she will be doing ‘anything’ that needs to be done. And, as in the past, she will do things with a smile.

The answer to the most asked question to the new Program Director is...“Yes, the Salvation Army will have a basketball team. But, we will need the help of the young people of Lake Worth.” Being a member of a family with 18 children from the same mother, God has given Eva Whitehouse the ability to know and play well with others.

Her calling has been

Eva Whitehouse, new Program Director, for the Lake Worth Salvation Army shares the amazing portrait of the founder of the Salvation Army, William Booth.

the youth. She loves meeting them on a ‘common ground’ and with God’s blessings, growing together. Eva Whitehouse is a person that “gives in good measure, pressed down.”

Sergeants Ronnie and Dana Gainey have enjoyed these past weeks getting to know their congregation and the Advisory Board ‘upfront and personal.’ As much as Eva Whitehouse is loved, she realizes she is only part of those who, “share, serve, nurture, care and continue to seek.” It is only with God’s blessings and together that the game of life can be won. Congratulations Eva Whitehouse. Welcome Home!
