

Cool Off Your Team At The Water Fights

What better for a warm August afternoon than Water Fights! The Barnesville Fire Department is sponsoring two hours of water fun downtown on Front Street from 3:00 – 5:00 p.m. August 24.

Form a team, get a team name, bring the family with lawn chairs and enjoy some wet fun!

The fights are played with two teams made up of at least three people.

The teams stand across from each other and above them is a ball suspended from a cable. Each team has a fire hose. The object of the battle is to use the fire hose to spray water at the ball and move it to the opponent's side. It reminds viewers of a tug of war game.

The team who sprays the ball past the opponent's line first wins.

Ages 12 and up can register with a parent signing a waiver. It costs $5 to register per person. All proceeds go to the Barnesville Fire Department.

Those who register will need to come up with a team name. You're going to get wet and it will be fun! Kids can try out the fire hoses after the fights.

The best part? There are prizes!! $100 for first place and $50 for second place in both age brackets (adults and kids).

Register at the Potato Days website or by using the QR code.
