

Mashed Potato Wrestling Is Back Again

It actually is just what it sounds like. You roll around and wrestle in a giant pit of mashed potatoes. Grab a friend or three, head on over, and find out who the king or queen of the tater is.

The location for the Mashed Potato Wrestling is just south of Midwest Bank. The event starts at 1 p.m. on Friday. The wrestling ring will be fashioned out of hay bales, tarps, and then filled with mashed potatoes.

There is a $10 per person entry fee and contestants may choose their own partners. Competition will be limited to the first 16 pairs to sign up. There will also be two age groups 12 and under and 13 and older to adults.

Each pair will wrestle two three-minute rounds with a one-minute break between rounds. From what we hear, the one-minute break is very much needed! As is the hosing down the firemen give each contestant.

This is one event not to miss as a spectator. A camera is an essential part of viewing this event just to prove you actually saw such a thing as Mashed Potato Wrestling.

What's the difference between mashed potatoes and pea soup?

Answer: Anyone can mash potatoes, but no one can pea soup.

POTATO PUN

I met a girl who owned three French fry factories. I was impressed, but she said it was just small potatoes.
