THE HEART

By Gary Toole, The Christian Way Ministries

Living for God must start with the heart. Outward appearance is important, because that is what man sees. But God sees the heart. Our outward appearance must be holy. Our hearts must be pure and manifest a loving, forgiving spirit. Our everyday lives must be full of good godly works, but it all must start in the heart.

One lady that had lived a sinful life for a long time had made a confession. She said that her life had changed. She quit smoking, swearing and various other bad habits, but she still didn't have a loving, forgiving spirit. She had grudges she was still holding toward those close to hear. She had laid aside many sinful things, but she was still carrying around weights that were a hindrance to her testimony.

It must start with the heart, then it will automatically manifest itself outwardly. Many of us still don't have that pure heart the Bible speaks of. In the Psalms, the psalmist cried out, "Lord, create in me a pure, clean heart!" Oh, Lord, that is my prayer for myself and for others too! Let us lay aside not only sins, but also weights that are making us fall short of the mark. We must strive daily in prayer to cleanse ourselves from all unrighteousness and that includes our attitude toward others. Let us not be like the Pharisees of Christ's day, because they boasted of things that were outward, yet their hearts were far from God. Jesus told them that their righteousness was like filthy rags. Not pure! The beatitude says, "Blessed are the pure in heart!" Jesus also told them that they were like something white washed outwardly, but inside it was rotten.

It starts with the heart. How about your heart? Thank you God that you look at the heart, because there I am. Man may misjudge us, but you know the very intent of our heart. Sanctify me daily Lord by the cleansing of my heart. Create in me a clean heart, oh God, my father!

Can you say amen?
