

Stalvey nominated for Entrepreneur of the Year

Lavell Stalvey, Founder and CEO of Tryp360, has been nominated for Entrepreneur of the Year at the 2026 GNEX Vacation Industry Awards, recognizing innovation and leadership in the global travel and hospitality industry.

Stalvey, of Homerville, founded Tryp360 to create a new type of travel membership platform that connects sports fans, live events, and experiential travel through a modern engagement ecosystem designed for today's experience-driven consumer.

Under his leadership, Tryp360 has built a network of strategic partnerships across sports, hospitality, and entertainment, creating unique travel opportunities tied directly to fan engagement and live experiences.

Stalvey has also developed partnerships with experiential brands and organizations including Ferg's Sports Bar (recently named #1 Sports Bar in America), Dr. Jen Welter's Gridiron Girls flag football clinics, and IceShaker, the performance drinkware company founded by Chris Gronkowski and featured on Shark Tank.

A major milestone for the company in 2026-2027 is working to secure a partnership with NXXT Golf and Super Bowl Champion Rob Gronkowski and the Gronkowski family, making Tryp360 the Official Travel Partner of Gronk Beach. Through this collaboration, Tryp360 campaigns will reach millions of fans through social media promotions, live event activations, and national media exposure.

Through these collaborations, Stalvey has created a scalable ecosystem that blends travel savings, fan engagement, gamified rewards, and live event experiences into a single platform.

"It's an honor to be nominated for Entrepreneur of the Year by GNEX alongside many of the leaders shaping the future of travel and hospitality," said Lavell Stalvey, Founder and CEO of Tryp360. "Our vision with Tryp360 is to build a platform that brings fans closer to the experiences they love — combining travel, sports, entertainment, and rewards into one connected ecosystem."

The Entrepreneur of the Year category is one of the most competitive at the GNEX Awards, featuring leaders from major brands across the global hospitality and vacation industry, including Hilton, Marriott, VOA Worldwide, and other leading travel companies.

Our Enduring Resolution

New Year's resolutions can be an excellent way to initiate our commitment to something we want to achieve or a habit we want to change. While we might not always see these resolutions through to the end of the year, we can still gain experience and a greater understanding of our abilities to take on new challenges. Despite these points, it is necessary to remember our enduring resolution, that is, one of commitment to love for God, our families, and others. While someone may begin a New Year's resolution due to the feeling that they are lacking in some ability or quality themselves, we must first always remember what our primary commitments are. If you find yourself undecided on a resolution this year, perhaps consider one that affirms our appreciation for our loved ones. This may simply be resolving to spend more with those we care about, or maybe even thinking of regular acts of kindness we can perform for them.
