The Need of Pet Owners

Elyse Paulin
Grade 5
Ms. Gonzales

Did you know that around 500,000 to a million stray cats are living in New York? Well, they are, and they sure aren't living the best life. Dogs and cats are disrespected every day, whether it's one being stranded or some being put down in a high-kill animal control facility. 582 to 1,000 dogs are euthanized, or put down in U.S. shelters every day, amounting to over 350,000 annually. And, according to Rouge Valley Times, "There's close to no room left in the pet shelter system and few, or very costly, appointments to get them fixed." So we need to start getting more pet owners.

The need of pet owners is rising. According to the Mars website, "1 in 3 pets are homeless," and Four Paws, a trusted US website, says "The World Health Organisation (WHO) estimates there are nearly 200 million stray dogs worldwide and an even higher number of stray cats." This post was in August of 2023. Now, even more dogs and cats are homeless.

So us Americans need to clean up our act and start thinking about adopting some dogs and cats. The need of pet owners are rising, and there is almost no room in shelters anymore.

Things Needed To Hunt Deer

Kolten Kress
4th Grade, Mrs. Collignon

Things to hunt are very very important like you can't get your rifle or bow and arrow at the house. You need all of those to hunt or you are going to have a family of deer laughing at you. Some of those important things are calls or clothes to hunt you can't wear your striped pjs. Having the right hunting gear is one of the most important of all things.

You have to have the right call in the deer stand. If you start honking a goose call you'll get a flock of geese but not much else. For deer you would need rattling antlers to imitate bucks fighting, or a doe bleat to fake a doe, or a snort wheeze to imitate a doe running from a buck.

And attractants for deer you would need doe pee or sent killers. If you are in a state like Kentucky and you can bait deer you should use corn even in Indiana you can use some types of mineral to bait deer in. Attractants are just as important as calls in the rut.

You need the right camo to hunt any time. If in a box blind you don't need a crazy amount of camo and the camo depends on where you are in central America you need traditional. But if you are in a tree stand you need more camo. If you are in a treey area you should probably use traditional camo but if hunting in a place like Mexico you would need desert camo. You always need the right things to get a stag on the wall.

Toronto Blue Jays

Do you have a favorite Major League Baseball team? Well I know I do, that'll have to be the Toronto Blue Jays. The Toronto Blue Jays are a MLB team that was founded on March 26th, 1976 by Don McDougall.

The Toronto Blue Jays starting lineup in their first game on April 7th 1977 was Rick Cerone, Bob Bailor, Doug Ault, Otto Velez, Al Woods, Dave McKay, Gary Woods, Pedro Garcia, and Sam Ewing. Their starting pitcher was Bill Singer. The first game was a 9-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox. The Blue Jays ended their first ever season with a terrible 54-107 record. The Blue Jays went on to have some bad seasons up until 1992.

In 1992 the Toronto Blue Jays for the first time in franchise history became World Series champs! The season record for them was 96-66 which is very solid, and it was enough for them to win their division. The lineup in game 6 of the 1992 World Series for the Toronto Blue Jays was Devon White, Roberto Alomar, Paul Molitor, Joe Carter, Dave Winfield, John Olerud, Kelly Gruber, Pat Borders, and Manuel Lee. The starting pitcher was David Cone, a future Cy Young winner. The Cy Young award goes to the best pitcher in the league and he eventually won AL Cy Young winner in 1994. The Blue Jays were tied with the Braves in the 11th inning and Dave Winfield hit a 2 RBI double to take the lead 4-2. The Braves were not good enough to score 2 to tie it up and the Jays eventually got those 3 outs and became World Series Champions.

Going into the 1993 season the Blue Jays did well and they ended the season with a 95-67 record which once again, is very solid. The Blue Jays grinded through the postseason and once again made it to the World Series. The Blue Jays went into game 6 and it was the bottom of the 9th inning and Joe Carter stepped up to the plate. The score is currently 6-5 against the Phillies and Joe launches the ball into deep left field and IT'S GONE! Joe hit a walkoff 3 run bomb to win back to back championships.

Do you know what a black panther is? Well, if you were wondering a black panther is a leopard or a jaguar, just, black. Also, if you were wondering, black panthers actually like water and are really good swimmers. A black panther's bite is 1,500 pounds per square inch!

A cool fact about Black

Panthers is they aren't completely black they have brown leopard spots. Did you know that the black color on them is caused by a genetic melanism that causes too much melanin. Black panthers live alone and are territorial. They only come together when they are mating.

A black panther is a cat. It has a very long tail. There is a brand that has a black panther on it.
