Give It Away

“They say love is the best investment; the more you give, the more you get in return.”
-Audrey Hepburn

Love is not something that we can store or save like we can with money or material possessions. Love is better thought of as both a feeling and an action, and in fact a feeling that often comes naturally when we act in loving ways. And thus, it makes sense that we have more love the more that we give away. That is, the more that we act in a loving manner, the more love we will get directed back to us and the more loving and lovable we will feel. Like so many things in life, we often must take a leap of faith and act with love and kindness to those around us and that same love that we give will come right back to us. It's as simple as smiling at others and being generous when we can. There are endless ways in which we can be loving, and we always know when we aren't being so.
