FAITH CAN MOVE MOUNTAINS

"Hatred stirs up conflict, but love covers over all wrongs."
 Proverbs 10:12 NIV

Extremists for Love

In Martin Luther King Jr.'s "Letter from a Birmingham Jail" he addresses the issue of being called an extremist, which he says at first disappointed him, especially since it came from his fellow clergy. He goes on to say, however, that he is proud to be considered an "extremist for love," as opposed to an "extremist for hate." Humankind seems to be forever divided into warring factions, and it doesn't take a genius to see who is on the side of love and who is on the side of hate. Martin Luther King Jr., Mahatma Gandhi, and Mother Teresa, despite their faults, were clearly on the side of love. The people who bomb churches and mosques, or schools are clearly on the side of hatred. We don't have to be a martyr or do great things to be on the side of love. We just need to be committed in everything we do to be kind and loving. So don't be afraid of being an extremist, as long as you're an extremist for love!
