

Several students and their volunteer mentors listened to Sara Coffman and Tyler Stevens with local law enforcement during Truth and Consequences. Many of the scenarios that students were given required them to learn the results of their illegal activities included in the scenarios.

Green County Attorney Russ Goff discusses the results of a legal scenario with a student and her mentor during last week's Truth and Consequences.

GCHS students attend Truth & Consequences

Photos by Dale Curry

ER nurses Alicia Taylor and Hallie Griffiths talk with a Green County High School student during Truth and Consequences.

Sue Ann McCandless, Green County Extension Agent, 4-H Youth Development, led one of the groups of freshmen students during a debriefing session at Truth and Consequences. Each freshman was given a scenario that required them to visit with various representatives of school, police, medical and community volunteers to learn the consequences of their scenario.

Weather Mats & Tech® Floor Liners

If you're looking for custom-fitted mats, cupholders, or floor liners—we've got you covered.

Taylor County Tire Sales

1636 New Columbia Road, Campbellsville

270-465-8176

Monday-Friday 7:30a.m. - 4:30p.m. ET

Volunteers from The Healing Place shared the stories of their lives with the freshmen from Green County High School during the Truth and Consequences program at the Green County Judicial Center last week.

20th anniversary Milestone

Helping Young Athletes Recover, Perform, and Excel

With over a decade of experience, Joshua Yancey has built a reputation as a leading provider of rehabilitation and performance care for younger athletes. Since joining Orthodyne in 2018, Joshua has helped countless athletes recover from injury and surgery, return to their sport, and reach new levels of performance.

In 2025, Joshua was honored as Clinical Instructor of the Year by Somerset Community College—an award given to just one instructor among numerous clinical sites across the state. Chosen based on student nominations and faculty selection, this recognition reflects his dedication to mentoring future clinicians and providing exceptional patient care.

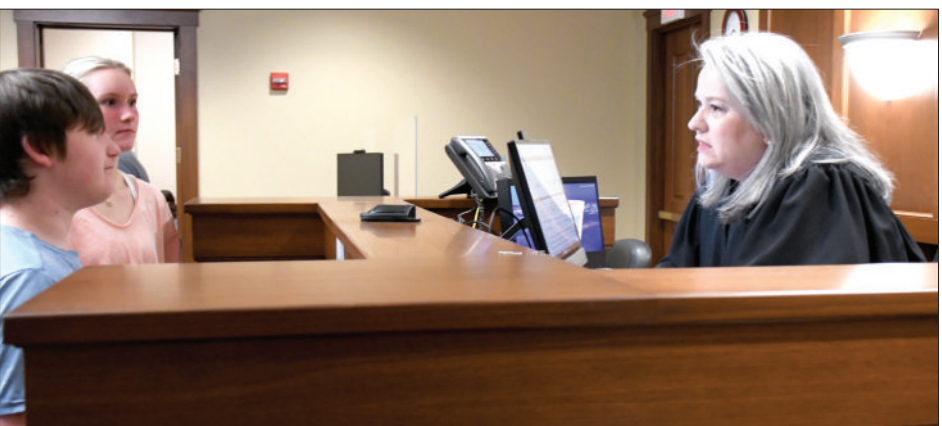

111 Well Park Lane, Ste. 2 - Campbellsville, KY

To schedule, call 270-789-6629

Mon.-Fri. 8:00a.m. - 5:00p.m.; Closed Sat. & Sun.

Marcy Goff, chair of the Green County Board of Education, talks to Jaxon Robertson, as Paxton Bloyd looks on. Robertson was one of the freshmen participating in Truth & Consequences. Bloyd was volunteering as a peer mentor.

District Judge Amy S. Anderson explained to a student who was participating in this year's Truth and Consequences that his scenario that had been assigned to him carried legal consequences.

Youth Pastor Josh Lockard goes over the scenario with a Green County High School student and his mentor. Some students had received a scenario that required them to visit with a pastor during Truth and Consequences.