

National Day of Prayer

Debbie Bagby, the Green County coordinator for the National Day of Prayer, gave opening remarks and introduced everyone who was involved in Thursday's prayer time inside the historic courthouse in Greensburg.

Green County Judge-Executive John Frank welcomed the people to the courthouse for the National Day of Prayer service.

The historic courthouse in downtown Greensburg was nearly full for last Thursday's National Day of Prayer service.

Heather Moss, who serves as the Green County High School Employment Coordinator, gave thanks to God for the churches and families in Green County and for the communities in which we live. She prayed for wisdom for pastors and church leaders and for protection for our families.

Green County Middle School Principal Steven Thomas prayed for the schools in the county. He gave thanks for the works of God's hand that he sees every day in the schools and prayed for the students who are preparing for Summer break.

Jim Frank, music director at Trammell Creek Baptist Church, read from 2 Chronicles 7:14, that he reminded us is a roadmap back to God. He prayed for the arts, entertainment and media and prayed that there would be truth and wholesomeness in the industry.

Sean Curry, Green County PVA, read scripture from Romans 12:1-2 and Joshua 1:9 before praying for the government and military. He prayed for those in authority and leadership positions and prayed for soldiers who are keeping us safe in conflicts around the globe.

The Rev. Jordan Abell, who serves as pastor of Greensburg Global Methodist Church, asked the congregation to join him in praying "The Lord's Prayer."

Greensburg City Fire Chief, Gary Buckner, led the crowd in the Pledge of Allegiance at the beginning of the prayer service.

Natalie Williams, a student at Campbellsville University and also serves as the music director at Greensburg Baptist Church, sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and also led the people in singing "Great Are You Lord."

The National Day of Prayer is observed annually on the first Thursday of May, inviting people of all faiths to pray for the nation. The 2026 prayer focuses on repentance, asking for healing for the nation's land, and celebrating 250 years of God's guidance, according to the National Day of Prayer Task Force.
