FAITH CAN MOVE MOUNTAINS

New Beginnings
As May ushers in the height of graduation season, we witness a significant milestone for the roughly 4.4 million Americans earning degrees this year. While this is a time for celebration, it is also a season that invites both relaxation and deep reflection. Many of us can recall the unique pressures of these transitional moments—the weight of expectations and the uncertainty of what lies ahead. This month, we have a meaningful opportunity to offer more than just congratulations; we can provide the steady guidance and reassurance that a bright future is built on more than just a diploma. By sharing our own experiences and offering a listening ear, we help the next generation understand that while the road ahead requires effort, they do not have to navigate the journey—or the stress that comes with it—entirely on their own.
