Lindsey Wilson University Nursing graduates achieve 100% pass rate on National Licensure Exam

LINDSEY WILSON UNIVERSITY

Graduates from the Lindsey Wilson University nursing program continued a streak of success this year, posting a perfect pass rate on the required licensing examination for the second consecutive year. All nursing majors who graduated from Lindsey Wilson's nursing program in 2025 passed the National Council Licensure Examination, the nationwide examination for the licensing of nurses in the United States. Known as the NCLEX, the 100% pass rate reflects the strength of the Lindsey Wilson curriculum and a nursing faculty committed to student success, according to Lindsey Wilson President William T. Luckey Jr. "The 100 percent pass rate achieved by our 2025 graduates reflects the dedication of both our students and faculty," said Luckey. "Their countless hours of preparation, combined with ongoing enhancements to the nursing curriculum, played a major role in this accomplishment." A total of 12 nursing graduates passed the examination on their first attempt, placing the Lindsey Wilson nursing program among the few institutions to accomplish this goal. Lindsey Wilson Director of Nursing Emiley Button said the achievement is also a testament to the nursing cohort's hard work, preparation and passion for providing high-quality patient care. "We want our nursing graduates to have excellent nursing knowledge when they graduate, and we also want them to be prepared to be effective team members in their workplace," said Button, who has been with the Lindsey Wilson nursing program since its inception in 2009. "This group was eager to learn and willing to devote the time and effort to be successful." Lindsey Wilson nursing students spend 135 hours working alongside a nurse while performing the nurse's duties to prepare for real-world practice, and they receive career advice through a special seven-week "Leadership in Nursing" class. In the recently released "Top 10 Best Nursing Schools in Kentucky," Lindsey Wilson was one of the top three schools independently researches schools and programs for nurses. See LWU, page 13A
