

Demolition Derby and Fireworks close out fair

SS Promotions put on the Demolition Derby at the final night of the Green County Fair Saturday evening and drew a large crowd.

Thunder Over Green River gets better year after year. It's a tradition that marks another successful fair.

A battle between father and son– Michael Grimsley and son, Isaiah Grimsley, were two of the final contenders left in the arena Saturday night. Michael won, Isaiah placed second, and Ethan Franklin came in third.

Photos by Crystal Cecil

Kentucky Extension Homemakers Association Lake Cumberland Area President Mary Lynn Chaudoin observes several of the 223 entries making up the Arts, Crafts, and Culinary fair competition. There were 17 exhibitors among six divisions.

There were many food preservation items entered in the Green County Fair.

Green County Fair 4-H, Arts, Crafts, & Culinary Exhibits

Photos by Clevis Jeffries

Pictured are several of the Green County Fair 4-H entries that were on display last week at the local cooperative extension office on Happyville Road.

Green County Family and Consumer Sciences Extension Agent Katelyn Squires admires the Grand Champions of the Green County Fair Arts, Crafts and Culinary exhibits.