Clinton students serve as pages for MS Senate
