

Clinton students serve as pages for state Legislature

Photos special to The Clinton Courier

William and Willow Lenoir, the children of Chris and Amy Lenoir and students at Clinton High School, recently served as pages for the Mississippi Senate, sponsored by Senator Kamesha B. Mumford. Pages generally run errands for officials and staff. When asked about the week, they said, "This week allowed us to spend our time getting to know the senators, how they discuss and vote on bills, and meeting new people. We got the opportunity to learn new things about our government, and we are grateful to be here." Pictured (l to r) are Mumford, William Lenoir, Willow Lenoir, and Lieutenant Governor C. Delbert Hosemann, Jr.

Robert Hampton (second from left), a student at Clinton High School, recently served as a page for the Mississippi House of Representatives. Pages generally run errands for officials and staff. Hampton, the son of Robert and Dionne Hampton, said, "My time as a page was a rewarding experience where I learned a lot and am grateful for the opportunity. I am deeply grateful to Mrs. Foster for this valuable opportunity to learn and contribute. I hope to have the change to serve again in the future." Pictured (l to r) are Representative Stephanie Foster, Robert Hampton, Ethan Williams, Cortez Thomas and Speaker Jason White. Foster sponsored Hampton's visit.

Garrison Mumford (center) of Clinton, a student at Jackson Academy, recently paged for the Mississippi Senate. Pages generally run errands for officials and Senate staff. Mumford is pictured with Senator Kameshia B. Mumford (left) and Lieutenant Governor C. Delbert Hosemann, Jr. (right), who sponsored his visit. Mumford said of his time as a page: "I liked meeting new people, and the senior pages Walter and Caleb were really nice. It was also amazing to see my mom working as a senator and to watch the work she does." Mumford is the son of Attn. Gerald and Senator Kamesha B. Mumford.
