Every citizen should know the fundamentals of how our government works at every level. And it's never too early to start learning.

The Clay County Fair offers a great opportunity to learn through conversations, displays and other resources on Friday, July 10, from noon to 4:00 p.m., for Clay County Government Day.

Representatives from various departments of the government will be on hand to share information, answer questions and share what services are available to county residents.

This fun but educational event is geared towards teaching students and citizens how county government works and what it does for them.

The booths and displays will be located near the open class building area.
