

Dig In! The Nickel Scramble Is Back!

A longtime fair favorite is making its return to the Clay County Fair.

The Nickel Scramble will be held Saturday, July 11, at 2 p.m. near the old schoolhouse, marking the event's first appearance at the fair since 2017.

The activity puts a fun twist on searching for treasure. Instead of looking for a needle in a haystack, participants will dig through loose straw to find nickels hidden throughout the pile. The goal is simple: find as many nickels as possible during the time allowed.

Best of all, participants get to keep the nickels they find.

Contestants will be divided into three age groups: 6 and under, 7 to 12, and 13 and older. Each group will have its own chance to search the straw and collect coins.

The Nickel Scramble has long been a crowd-pleasing event for children and families, and its return brings another bit of classic fair fun back to the schedule.

Families are encouraged to stop by, cheer on the participants and enjoy this returning favorite at the Clay County Fair.
