Cell Phone Ban

(From Toluca Front Page) enforcement and exceptions.

The revised version includes a list of exceptions, including medical necessity, individualized education programs and for English learners accessing materials. It also limits disciplinary actions, such as suspension or expulsion. And it prohibits enforcement through fines, fees or law enforcement action.

If the bill is passed and signed by the governor, policies would need to be implemented by the 2027-28 school year. But school districts that already have cellphone restrictions in place have until 2030-31 to ensure their policies conform with state requirements.

Prioritizing academic success
Currently, 42 states and Washington, D.C., have laws or policies that either prohibit or limit student cellphone use, or require individual districts to either ban or limit their use.

"There are a lot of different states that have introduced this bill, and I think it is passed with a broad bipartisan support because they recognize the importance of banning these devices with some exceptions, of course, so that way students are successful," said Sen. Cristina Castro, D-Elgin.

Consolidation

Padula said consolidating government units doesn't necessarily relieve tax burdens.

"Consolidation can reduce duplication and improve efficiency, which can help manage the cost over time, but a lot of those property taxes are driven by broader factors and funding needs," Padula said.

Padula said consolidation is a spectrum.

"Illinois' current system has developed over time, not by specific design, and that creates the opportunity to make it work more efficiently today," Padula said.

Fun Fact

The country of Russia is so vast that the time difference between its westernmost and easternmost points is about 11 hours. For example, when it is noon in Kaliningrad, the westernmost part of Russia, it is 11pm in Petropavlovsk-Kamchatsky, the easternmost city.
