

Koltyn All Larson

By Brennen Zahnow

This is Koltyn All Larson. His parents are Heather and James Webb, and he has six siblings: Gabriel Barry (brother), Olivia Webb (sister), Teagen Larson (brother), Jaekub Larson (brother), Landyn Larson (brother), and Parker Webb (brother).

Koltyn plans to attend the University of North Dakota in the fall to study anesthesiology, pursuing a career path he has been dreaming of for years.

He was employed at Palubicki's, now Hugo's, for three and a half years before switching jobs to work at Dairy Queen for the past seven months, which is closer to his home.

Koltyn has been on the wrestling team since kindergarten and has been involved in the musical arts since 6th grade.

His biggest pet peeve is when people walk on the left side of the hallway, cutting the flow of students in half and disrupting everyone's walk to class.

A direct quote from Koltyn comes from a band and choir contest when he said, "I cannot wait to go home and be a biggie," even after he and a friend ate an entire large pizza together.

His most embarrassing moment was during a wrestling meet when he had to change into his wrestling singlet in front of a gymnasium full of students and other wrestlers.

Lexi Rae Mahlen

By Hilde Deusterman

On June 12, 2007, Lexi Rae Mahlen was welcomed into the world by her parents, Nathan and Rochelle Mahlen, and her older siblings, Noah and Brynlea. This fall she plans on attending the University of Minnesota Crookston and majoring in exercise science, as well as continuing to play basketball.

Lexi has been very passionate about and involved in sports from a young age. She participates in volleyball, basketball, and softball and is the captain of all three teams. Her favorite sport is basketball because she can play whenever she wants and doesn't have to rely on somebody to help her. She also got her 1,000th point in basketball during her junior year! Going to state for basketball when she was a sophomore is her favorite high school memory.

Lexi is clearly a leader, not only evident from being a captain of three sports for many years, but also being student council president, participating in National Honor Society, being on the Polk County Youth Advisory Board, and being on the A-honor roll much of her high school career. She loves to participate in whatever she can and her advice to younger students is: "Be involved in as many things as you can, because that's where the best memories come from."

Lexi enjoys high school, especially her medical careers class for what she learns and it's fun field trips. In her opinion, Mrs. Rue is the best teacher because of her bright and fun personality and how she "keeps things interesting." When she's not in school or playing sports, Lexi can be found working at the Red Poppy, watching her favorite show (Grey's Anatomy), hanging out with friends, or enjoying the company of her "ancient" pug, Gabby.

The person Lexi looks up to most is her grandpa, Papa Paul, "because he always looked on the bright side and made all of his family feel loved and supported." She also states that he always knew how to make someone laugh even in a serious moment. Lexi really admired her grandfather because, "he was one of the kindest and friendliest people someone could ever meet and want in their life."

Lexi is also one of the kindest people you will ever meet and is very fun to be around. She works very hard for what she wants and will continue to do so in the next chapter of her life.

Looking back Lexi will miss seeing her classmates everyday as well as the Fosston community around sports and activities. However, Lexi is excited to start a new chapter in Crookston and has goals to someday live somewhere warm, be rich, start a family, and, hopefully, travel to Fiji one day. Good luck, Lexi!
