Long Beach families and veterans groups recognize late service members on Memorial Day

Toni Miles

Members of the Staff Sergeant Donnie Leo-Levens American Legion Post 1995 and the Eddy Blake VFW Post 3937 placed American flags on the headstones of veterans buried in Long Beach cemeteries for Memorial Day.

By Toni Miles

The core mission of Memorial Day is to be a solemn day of remembrance to honor the men and women who made the ultimate sacrifice for their country. Members of the Staff Sergeant Donnie Leo-Levens American Legion Post 1995 and the Eddy Blake VFW Post 3937 did just that, placing flags on the headstones of late veterans buried at local cemeteries. The groups say the gesture, carried out each year, honors the memory of fallen heroes and service members who have passed and ensures they are remembered with the respect they deserve each Memorial Day. In addition, banners were hung at the Harper McCaughan pavilion. Many of the banners were sponsored by family members and friends.
