The 4-H Swine Show was held at the Macoupin County Fairgrounds on Tuesday, June 2. The event gave young pork producers the opportunity to showcase results of their hard work and dedication for their animals while competing for awards. Members were judged on their showmanship, fitting, and overall care of their animals.

Participants in this year's show included Will Ahrling of Plainview and Makenna Harding, Taylor Harding, Ashlyn Killam, Maycee Hampton, Rylan Hampton, Kaine Hampton, Lowen Stayton, and Sloane Stayton of Carlinville.

Colby Hough of Lincoln, IL served as the judge for the show, and Damon Stayton of Carlinville served as superintendent.
